~ Community Offender Census 2008 ~

Explanatory Notes

EXPLANATORY NOTES

a) General Information

The New South Wales Community Offender Census was initially developed following a proposal by the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS) to develop a National Community Based Corrections census. A 12 month feasibility study was implemented by the ABS in May 2006, which NSW participated in. Although ultimately the National Census did not take place, the Corporate Research Evaluation and Statistics (CRES) unit of Corrective Services continued with development of a census for community based offenders for NSW in order to compliment the existing custody based 'inmate census', and in recognition of the substantial population of offenders managed by Community Offender Services (COS), the section of the Department of Corrective Services (DCS) responsible for community based orders.

All data was extracted from the Offender Integrated Management System (OIMS) used by DCS to manage offenders both in the community and custody, for all records current as at 30 June 2008. The data was also manually screened for any potential errors and inconsistencies in order to maximise reliability.

b) Offenders and legal orders

A key component of understanding the community offender population is the distinction between the number of total offenders and the number of offenders with different types of orders. For the purposes of this census, an offender is an individual who may have several different orders. For example, it is possible for an individual offender to be serving a Community Service Order at the same time as a Probation order. Some offenders may also be part of the custodial inmate population on the day of the census, either in full time custody or periodic detention. In these cases each offender will be counted once within each order category, and once in the total population. For this reason, numbers from individual order categories cannot be added together. Offenders who are in custody, and therefore will also be counted in the inmate census, are identified under the variable 'In custody at census date', and should be removed before undertaking any merging of community and custodial population figures.

c) Order Types

Data is reported for four different order types. These order types represent aggregates of a range of legal orders and are defined as follows.

Refer to Appendix 3 for a detailed list of order categorisations.

Bonds (Probation)

Includes all supervised good behaviour bonds, suspended sentences, recognisances and licences, extended supervision orders, bail supervision and drug court orders, as well as probation specified as a condition of community service orders.

Data within this category differs slightly from that reported for the annual 'Report on Government Services', as community service orders with a programs component have been excluded. This was done primarily to reduce double counting, since only a single legal order is actually issued. Community service offenders with programs hours are recorded within the community service population, and are identified within the count of program hours assigned. The number of offenders which this impacts on is fairly small.

Parole	Includes all supervised parole orders, both court based and those issued by the State Parole Authority (which includes orders such as formal transfer of interstate parole and balance of parole). Does not include offenders released to unsupervised parole.
Community Service (CSO)	Includes all community service orders and fine default orders.
Home Detention	Includes home detention orders.

d) Scope of data collection

This publication contains summary statistics of offenders with legal orders registered at COS district offices on the 30 June 2008. In order to maintain consistency with figures reported under established counting rules, all offenders have been included regardless of factors such as legal status of the order, or whereabouts of the offender (for example, some offenders were interstate or whereabouts unknown at the census date).

In order to reflect the statistical needs of COS management and provide a more meaningful count of the population, all offenders have been defined as either 'Active' or 'Administrative' throughout the census. These categories are defined as follows:

Active

The offender has a current legal order and is assigned to a probation and parole officer who is managing that order to ensure compliance with the conditions. For example, provision of case management, attendance at programs, urinalysis, attendance at Community Service work, or any other form of active involvement with the offender.

These offenders constitute the population which could be considered as most relevant to any current analysis of community offenders.

Administrative

COS has some interest in the offender, but the offender themselves is not being actively managed or monitored as at the census date. This may be for a variety of reasons. Usually the offender is not assigned to a probation and parole officer's workload, but may be placed in an administrative caseload to be periodically reviewed where further action is awaited (such as resolution of court matters). There are a wide range of specific reasons why an offender's order may be held for administrative purposes, but some of the more common causes include:

Breach action – the offender has not complied with their order and COS has commenced breach action in court. In some cases the offender may have absconded and a warrant may have been issued. The order is often retained until such time as the court resolves the breach matter, which may take several months.

Temporary inability to manage the order – the offender cannot be directly managed in the community because they have been placed in full time custody for several months, have been hospitalised, have been granted permission to travel outside of the State, or otherwise are not within the NSW community for a period of time. In most cases the offender will be monitored elsewhere – such as where they are in custody or in another jurisdiction – and supervision will recommence once the offender has returned to the community.

Order completion – the offender's order has expired and COS has no further legal authority to manage the offender. The offender's record may remain active in the system for a brief period of time for administration purposes such as completion of a summary of the order outcomes and offender responsibility which can be used to inform future contacts with the offender.

e) Aboriginality

An offender is recorded as an Aboriginal / Torres Strait Islander where they have self identified as such in any current or historical records held by the Department of Corrective Services.

f) Cultural Background

Cultural background is coded according to the Second Edition of the Australian Standard Classification of Cultural and Ethnic Groups (ASCCEG) (Australian Bureau of Statistics Catalogue No: 1249.0, ABS 2005). In a small number of cases where cultural background was not recorded, any available country of birth and Aboriginality data have been used to determine a cultural region of origin. In these cases, the offender has been placed in the specific cultural grouping of 'not elsewhere classified' (n.e.c.) within the relevant broader cultural group.

g) Prior Imprisonment

Prior imprisonment is calculated based on any full time imprisonment ending prior to the census date, at any adult NSW Correctional Centre. This includes where a prior period of imprisonment may be related to the current sentence – as is the case with parole. The purpose of this item is to indicate which offenders have previously been managed by the custodial arm of DCS.

h) Office Location

In the majority of cases the offender was only assigned to one of the relevant order types at a single district office. However, it is possible for an offender with multiple orders to be assigned to two different locations. In order to maintain simplicity within the dataset, a single location was identified for all offenders. Where there were multiple assignments, preference was given to locations with active orders over those with administrative ones, then to locations with supervision orders, then to CSO. The number of instances where offenders had active orders at 2 locations was very small.

i) Concept of an 'Episode'

An episode is defined as a single period of continuous contact with COS up until the Census date. It does not include any custodial bookings, although often a custodial booking may overlap with a community one. Episode length is calculated by identifying the earliest start date of a community based order in a series of unbroken community contact.

j) Aggregate sentence length

Aggregate sentence length represents the time from the earliest start date of an offender's community based orders to the final expiry date.

Sentence length refers only to the community component of an offender's sentence. For example, where an offender is subject to a parole order sentence length only refers to that order, and does not include the custodial portion of the sentence.

Sentence length will not always correspond to the actual time ultimately served. For instance, where an offender is breached, the order may be revoked prior its completion. Additionally, supervision may not always last for the duration of an order, such as in the case of many bonds, where the court may allow supervision to cease ahead of the total order expiry if deemed appropriate by COS.

It is important to note that there are a range of statutory limitations on many of the community based orders. For example, under the Crimes (Sentencing Procedure) Act 1999, a Section 9 Good Behaviour Bond may not exceed 5 years, and a Home Detention order may not exceed 18 months.

It may however be possible for an offender's aggregate sentences to exceed these limits. For example, an offender who has received a 5 year Section 9 Bond receives another 5 year Section 9 Bond on unrelated matters one year into the first order, creating an aggregate sentence of 6 years.

k) Community Service Hours completed

Community Service Hours are typically recorded at an offender's work site by a sessional supervisor. These records are then collected by COS staff on a regular basis, and entered into the system by the staff member. Due to this process there are small delays between the work hours being completed and data being entered.

Hours completed were subsequently retrieved 1 week following the census date, on 7 July 2008, to allow for data entry lag, and then reviewed again in August 2008 to check for any significantly delayed data entry.

l) Most Serious Offence

Most serious offence was determined by using the National Offence Index (NOI), which is based on the Australian Standard Offence Classification (ASOC), 1997 (see below). There is presently no definitive hierarchy of penalties to allow use of community sentence details to assist in determining seriousness of offence within all categories. For example, determining whether a 6 month suspended sentence constitutes a more serious penalty than a 3 year Section 9 bond is open to argument in either direction. Although the use of the NOI also presents problems, since the code does not consider the magnitude of the offence in the same manner that sentence length is able to do for the inmate population, at the present point in time it is considered the most pragmatic approach.

In reviewing the validity of this process, it was found that in any case the majority of offenders have small numbers of offences, often within the same ASOC, or with one clear cut 'serious' offence. Subsequently the potential for miscoding is considered to be minimal. This procedure may however be reviewed in the future.

m) Classification of offences

In this publication offences have been classified according to the Australian Standard Offence Classification (ASOC) (Australian Bureau of Statistics Catalogue No: 1234.0, ABS 1997). Data has been reported at the division and subdivision levels, with assault offences being broken down to group level due to large numbers within the subdivision. At the time of census conversion to the 2008 version of ASOC had not yet been implemented.

n) Federal offences

Identification of offenders with federal offences was based on order types and offence codes. Offenders with any federal order type (such as a Section 20 Bond under the Commonwealth Crimes Act 1914), or an offence which had been flagged as Federal were included. Where a conflict existed, for example a Section 19 bond attached to an offence identified as being a State offence, offence description was checked and where necessary court records were also accessed to determine the relevant status.

o) Statistical Subdivision of Residence

Statistical Subdivision is defined according to the Australian Standard Geographical Classification (ASGC), (Australian Bureau of Statistics Catalogue No: 1216, ABS 2005). Under this system, where the subdivision uses the suffix 'SD Bal', the statistical subdivision has been defined by taking the statistical division (the next highest level of categorisation) and removing a statistical district (a significant city area, also defined by the ASGC) which also constitutes a subdivision. So for example, the Hunter SD Bal subdivision is the part of the Hunter statistical division outside of the Newcastle subdivision.

1. Number of order categories reflects the different types of orders to which an offender is subject, as offenders may have more than one order active at a time. "Category" level includes Home Detention, Community Service, Bonds and Parole. "Sub category" levels includes home detention, fine default, community service order, bail, bond, suspended sentence, drug court, probation as condition of CSO, Court parole, and Parole Authority parole. Offenders may also have multiple orders of the same sub-type (eg multiple bonds), although this is not shown here.

2. A breach application means that at some point in the life of the order the offender has been reported to the relevant authority for failure to comply with the conditions of that order. In some cases this may only be the result of a routine notification - such as in the case of new convictions. It does not always result in a recommendation or a decision for the order to be revoked. For example, if the breach was considered minor, in a warning might be issued instead.

1. An active PSR means that the offender has new convictions which are before the courts awaiting sentencing, and COS is preparing a report to advise on the offenders eligibility for community based sentences. Offenders may also be referred to COS for pre sentence assessment by the courts without any additional supervision order. Those offenders are not counted here, and do not constitute part of the census population. However, PSRs do constitute a large portion of the workload of COS, with 26,980 such reports being prepared in 2006-07.

1. Minimum contact levels are based on current Departmental policy guidelines and indicate the minimum frequency of offender intervention - which may include offender contact with the supervising officer, attendance at offender programs, or other forms of intervention. This is based on an offender needs assessment. Some offenders may be subject to more stringent supervision than the original level assessed.

2. Home detention involving electronic monitoring and frequent contact / intervention

3. New offenders are assessed over a 6 week period following reception before a minimum contact level is determined. During this time contact levels are likely to be frequent. Offenders on CSO do not require assessment as they are not case managed in the manner that offenders on probation and parole are, as their attendance requirements are determined based on the work hours assigned and not case management and monitoring. If an offender is subject to an intensive supervision order, this overrides any other assessment or absence of assessment, hence the number of offenders with no assessment for identifying relevant issues is slightly higher than those missing a minimum contact level

4. This list is not exhaustive and is restricted to certain factors contained in the Level of Service Inventory - Revised (with the exception of Domestic Violence, see below) which is used to assess offenders under supervision. Only those factors considered to be the most concise have been utilised, although it should be noted that even this list contains items which are quite broad in nature.

5. Domestic violence is determined by a combination of assessment and available offence data relating to breach of Apprehended Domestic Violence Orders, and may not always involve offences for physical violence, indeed the offender may also be a victim. In some cases sufficient data is not available to determine if domestic violence is relevant or not, therefore these figures should be only an approximate indication of domestic violence as a general issue that impacts the offender in some way.

1. Offenders in periodic detention may be both under active supervision and attending detention simultaneously. Offenders in full time custody may be there for either a remand or a new sentence, and are generally unable to be actively supervised on their community order, however offenders may often only be in custody for a brief period of time (eg awaiting a court hearing for bail determination) which does not immediately impact on the ability of the order to be administered. The event which caused them to return to custody (for example, a new charge), may however have other repercussions, such as breach action, or an increase in supervision levels.

1. Number of order categories reflects the different types of orders to which an offender is subject, as offenders may have more than one order active at a time. "Category" level includes Home Detention, Community Service, Bonds and Parole. "Sub category" levels includes home detention, fine default, community service order, bail, bond, suspended sentence, drug court, probation as condition of CSO, Court parole, and Parole Authority parole. Offenders may also have multiple orders of the same sub-type (eg multiple bonds), although this is not shown here.

2. A breach application means that at some point in the life of the order the offender has been reported to the relevant authority for failure to comply with the conditions of that order. In some cases this may only be the result of a routine notification - such as in the case of new convictions. It does not always result in a recommendation or a decision for the order to be revoked. For example, if the breach was considered minor, in a warning might be issued instead.

1. An active PSR means that the offender has new convictions which are before the courts awaiting sentencing, and COS is preparing a report to advise on the offenders eligibility for community based sentences. Offenders may also be referred to COS for pre sentence assessment by the courts without any additional supervision order. Those offenders are not counted here, and do not constitute part of the census population. However, PSRs do constitute a large portion of the workload of COS, with 26,980 such reports being prepared in 2006-07.

1. Minimum contact levels are based on current Departmental policy guidelines and indicate the minimum frequency of offender intervention - which may include offender contact with the supervising officer, attendance at offender programs, or other forms of intervention. This is based on an offender needs assessment. Some offenders may be subject to more stringent supervision than the original level assessed.

2. Home detention involving electronic monitoring and frequent contact / intervention

3. New offenders are assessed over a 6 week period following reception before a minimum contact level is determined. During this time contact levels are likely to be frequent. Offenders on CSO do not require assessment as they are not case managed in the manner that offenders on probation and parole are, as their attendance requirements are determined based on the work hours assigned and not case management and monitoring. If an offender is subject to an intensive supervision order, this overrides any other assessment or absence of assessment, hence the number of offenders with no assessment for identifying relevant issues is slightly higher than those missing a minimum contact level

4. This list is not exhaustive and is restricted to certain factors contained in the Level of Service Inventory - Revised (with the exception of Domestic Violence, see below) which is used to assess offenders under supervision. Only those factors considered to be the most concise have been utilised, although it should be noted that even this list contains items which are quite broad in nature.

5. Domestic violence is determined by a combination of assessment and available offence data relating to breach of Apprehended Domestic Violence Orders, and may not always involve offences for physical violence, indeed the offender may also be a victim. In some cases sufficient data is not available to determine if domestic violence is relevant or not, therefore these figures should to be only an approximate indication of domestic violence as a general issue that impacts the offender in some way.

1. Offenders in periodic detention may be both under active supervision and attending detention simultaneously. Offenders in full time custody may be there for either remand or a new sentence, and are generally unable to be actively supervised on their community order, however offenders may often only be in custody for a brief period of time (eg awaiting a court hearing for bail determination) which does not immediately impact on the ability of the order to be administered. The event which caused them to return to custody (for example, a new charge), may however have other repercussions, such as breach action, or an increase in supervision levels.

1. Number of order categories reflects the different types of orders to which an offender is subject, as offenders may have more than one order active at a time. "Category" level includes Home Detention, Community Service, Bonds and Parole. "Sub category" levels includes home detention, fine default, community service order, bail, bond, suspended sentence, drug court, probation as condition of CSO, Court parole, and Parole Authority parole. Offenders may also have multiple orders of the same sub-type (eg multiple bonds), although this is not shown here.

2. A breach application means that at some point in the life of the order the offender has been reported to the relevant authority for failure to comply with the conditions of that order. In some cases this may only be the result of a routine notification - such as in the case of new convictions. It does not always result in a recommendation or a decision for the order to be revoked. For example, if the breach was considered minor, in a warning might be issued instead.

1. Order length only refers to the length of the community based portion of the order - not the entire sentence, which includes time in custody

2. An active PSR means that the offender has new convictions which are before the courts awaiting sentencing, and COS is preparing a report to advise on the offenders eligibility for community based sentences. Offenders may also be referred to COS for pre sentence assessment by the courts without any additional supervision order. Those offenders are not counted here, and do not constitute part of the census population. However, PSRs do constitute a large portion of the workload of COS, with 26,980 such reports being prepared in 2006-07.

1. Minimum contact levels are based on current Departmental policy guidelines and indicate the minimum frequency of offender intervention - which may include offender contact with the supervising officer, attendance at offender programs, or other forms of intervention. This is based on an offender needs assessment. Some offenders may be subject to more stringent supervision than the original level assessed.

2. Home detention involving electronic monitoring and frequent contact / intervention

3. New offenders are assessed over a 6 week period following reception before a minimum contact level is determined. During this time contact levels are likely to be frequent. Offenders on CSO do not require assessment as they are not case managed in the manner that offenders on probation and parole are, as their attendance requirements are determined based on the work hours assigned and not case management and monitoring. If an offender is subject to an intensive supervision order, this overrides any other assessment or absence of assessment, hence the number of offenders with no assessment for identifying relevant issues is slightly higher than those missing a minimum contact level

4. This list is not exhaustive and is restricted to certain factors contained in the Level of Service Inventory - Revised (with the exception of Domestic Violence, see below) which is used to assess offenders under supervision. Only those factors considered to be the most concise have been utilised, although it should be noted that even this list contains items which are quite broad in nature.

5. Domestic violence is determined by a combination of assessment and available offence data relating to breach of Apprehended Domestic Violence Orders, and may not always involve offences for physical violence, indeed the offender may also be a victim. In some cases sufficient data is not available to determine if domestic violence is relevant or not, therefore these figures should be only an approximate indication of domestic violence as a general issue that impacts the offender in some way.

1. Offenders in periodic detention may be both under active supervision and attending detention simultaneously. Offenders in full time custody may be there for either a remand or a new sentence, and are generally unable to be actively supervised on their community order, however offenders may often only be in custody for a brief period of time (eg awaiting a court hearing for bail determination) which does not immediately impact on the ability of the order to be administered. The event which caused them to return to custody (for example, a new charge), may however have other repercussions, such as breach action, or an increase in supervision levels.

1. Number of order categories reflects the different types of orders to which an offender is subject, as offenders may have more than one order active at a time. "Category" level includes Home Detention, Community Service, Bonds and Parole. "Sub category" levels includes home detention, fine default, community service order, bail, bond, suspended sentence, drug court, probation as condition of CSO, Court parole, and Parole Authority parole. Offenders may also have multiple orders of the same sub-type (eg multiple bonds), although this is not shown here.

2. A breach application means that at some point in the life of the order the offender has been reported to the relevant authority for failure to comply with the conditions of that order. In some cases this may only be the result of a routine notification - such as in the case of new convictions. It does not always result in a recommendation or a decision for the order to be revoked. For example, if the breach was considered minor, in a warning might be issued instead.

1. An active PSR means that the offender has new convictions which are before the courts awaiting sentencing, and COS is preparing a report to advise on the offenders eligibility for community based sentences. Offenders may also be referred to COS for pre sentence assessment by the courts without any additional supervision order. Those offenders are not counted here, and do not constitute part of the census population. However, PSRs do constitute a large portion of the workload of COS, with 26,980 such reports being prepared in 2006-07.

1. Minimum contact levels are based on current Departmental policy guidelines and indicate the minimum frequency of offender intervention - which may include offender contact with the supervising officer, attendance at offender programs, or other forms of intervention. This is based on an offender needs assessment. Some offenders may be subject to more stringent supervision than the original level assessed.

2. Home detention involving electronic monitoring and frequent contact / intervention

3. New offenders are assessed over a 6 week period following reception before a minimum contact level is determined. During this time contact levels are likely to be frequent. Offenders on CSO do not require assessment as they are not case managed in the manner that offenders on probation and parole are, as their attendance requirements are determined based on the work hours assigned and not case management and monitoring. If an offender is subject to an intensive supervision order, this overrides any other assessment or absence of assessment, hence the number of offenders with no assessment for identifying relevant issues is slightly higher than those missing a minimum contact level

4. This list is not exhaustive and is restricted to certain factors contained in the Level of Service Inventory - Revised (with the exception of Domestic Violence, see below) which is used to assess offenders under supervision. Only those factors considered to be the most concise have been utilised, although it should be noted that even this list contains items which are quite broad in nature.

5. Domestic violence is determined by a combination of assessment and available offence data relating to breach of Apprehended Domestic Violence Orders, and may not always involve offences for physical violence, indeed the offender may also be a victim. In some cases sufficient data is not available to determine if domestic violence is relevant or not, therefore these figures should be only an approximate indication of domestic violence as a general issue that impacts the offender in some way.

1. Offenders in periodic detention may be both under active supervision and attending detention simultaneously. Offenders in full time custody may be there for either a remand or a new sentence, and are generally unable to be actively supervised on their community order, however offenders may often only be in custody for a brief period of time (eg awaiting a court hearing for bail determination) which does not immediately impact on the ability of the order to be administered. The event which caused them to return to custody (for example, a new charge), may however have other repercussions, such as breach action, or an increase in supervision levels.

1. Number of order categories reflects the different types of orders to which an offender is subject, as offenders may have more than one order active at a time. "Category" level includes Home Detention, Community Service, Bonds and Parole. "Sub category" levels includes home detention, fine default, community service order, bail, bond, suspended sentence, drug court, probation as condition of CSO, Court parole, and Parole Authority parole. Offenders may also have multiple orders of the same sub-type (eg multiple bonds), although this is not shown here.

2. A breach application means that at some point in the life of the order the offender has been reported to the relevant authority for failure to comply with the conditions of that order. In some cases this may only be the result of a routine notification - such as in the case of new convictions. It does not always result in a recommendation or a decision for the order to be revoked. For example, if the breach was considered minor, in a warning might be issued instead.

1. An active PSR means that the offender has new convictions which are before the courts awaiting sentencing, and COS is preparing a report to advise on the offenders eligibility for community based sentences. Offenders may also be referred to COS for pre sentence assessment by the courts without any additional supervision order. Those offenders are not counted here, and do not constitute part of the census population. However, PSRs do constitute a large portion of the workload of COS, with 26,980 such reports being prepared in 2006-07.

1. Minimum contact levels are based on current Departmental policy guidelines and indicate the minimum frequency of offender intervention - which may include offender contact with the supervising officer, attendance at offender programs, or other forms of intervention. This is based on an offender needs assessment. Some offenders may be subject to more stringent supervision than the original level assessed.

2. Home detention involving electronic monitoring and frequent contact / intervention

3. New offenders are assessed over a 6 week period following reception before a minimum contact level is determined. During this time contact levels are likely to be frequent. Offenders on CSO do not require assessment as they are not case managed in the manner that offenders on probation and parole are, as their attendance requirements are determined based on the work hours assigned and not case management and monitoring. If an offender is subject to an intensive supervision order, this overrides any other assessment or absence of assessment, hence the number of offenders with no assessment for identifying relevant issues is slightly higher than those missing a minimum contact level

4. This list is not exhaustive and is restricted to certain factors contained in the Level of Service Inventory - Revised (with the exception of Domestic Violence, see below) which is used to assess offenders under supervision. Only those factors considered to be the most concise have been utilised, although it should be noted that even this list contains items which are quite broad in nature.

5. Domestic violence is determined by a combination of assessment and available offence data relating to breach of Apprehended Domestic Violence Orders, and may not always involve offences for physical violence, indeed the offender may also be a victim. In some cases sufficient data is not available to determine if domestic violence is relevant or not, therefore these figures should be only an approximate indication of domestic violence as a general issue that impacts the offender in some way.

1. Offenders in periodic detention may be both under active supervision and attending detention simultaneously. Offenders in full time custody may be there for either a remand or a new sentence, and are generally unable to be actively supervised on their community order, however offenders may often only be in custody for a brief period of time (eg awaiting a court hearing for bail determination) which does not immediately impact on the ability of the order to be administered. The event which caused them to return to custody (for example, a new charge), may however have other repercussions, such as breach action, or an increase in supervision levels.
