I wish to pay my restitution instalments using Centrelink's Centrepay facility.

Please complete the attached 'Centrepay Deductions' form and lodge it at your nearest Centrelink Office.

I wish to pay my restitution instalments by directly crediting the account of the Department of Attorney General and Justice (DAGJ). Please arrange to have deposit book sent to me.

Please note deposits can be made at any Westpac Bank branch with your deposit book.

I wish to make my restitution payments 'electronically' into the DAGJ bank account.

The DAGJ's account details for making your electronic payments are set out below:

BSB 032-001

Account number 201716

Account name D0 - DAGJ (include your debtor number provided on the attached letter)

Account description D0 - your name (your debtor number, surname and initial of your first name. Eg. D000001-CITIZEN A)

Please contact the Accounts Receivable Section of Victims Services if you need any assistance in setting up periodic scheduled payments from your bank account.

I wish to pay my restitution instalments by deducting it from my payroll and crediting it directly into the DJAG bank account.

Please contact the Accounts Receivable Section of Victims Services on the telephone number provided above for further instructions regarding this payment method.

I propose to make my instalment payments by sending a cheque or money order by mail to:

Financial Services Branch, Department of Attorney General and Justice, Locked Bag 5111 Parramatta NSW 2124.

Please ensure that your debtor number, name and current address is written on the back of any cheque or money order sent by mail.
